Allianz SE

Allianz is one of the largest non-life insurers in the world, with a leading position in Continental Europe and significant operations in the US and the Pacific Rim. The group also has top-tier market positions in life insurance in Germany and Italy as well as significant operations in a number of other countries, including the US. Allianz has a strong bond asset management division through the Pacific Investment Management Company (PIMCO). Allianz reported stronger-than-expected Q3 2022 results. However, the better outcome was largely driven by less sustainable realised capital gains, while the adj. combined ratio (CR) deteriorated. Management slightly increased the full-year outlook. Revenues grew a muted 1.3% y/y to EUR34.8bn (internal growth: -3.7% y/y), as growth in non-life (+14.2% y/y to EUR16.1bn; +8.8% y/y internal growth, led by 6.7% higher prices) was largely offset by y/y declines in L&H (-8.0% to EUR16.8bn) and AM (-1.4% to EUR2.1bn). Operating profits (OP) rose 7.4% y/y to EUR3.5bn (vs consensus of EUR3.45bn) on improved investment and underwriting results in non-life. Moreover, NPs grew 16.7% y/y to EUR2.5bn, beating consensus of EUR2.2bn, mainly driven by realised capital gains (backed by the Voya Investment Management [not listed] transaction). Non-life OP grew 32.0% y/y to EUR1.7bn (a 4% beat), aided by 36.4% y/y growth in investment results and a 29.9% y/y rise in underwriting results, with a 0.7ppt y/y improvement in the CR to 94.0%. It benefitted from lower natural catastrophe claims and higher positive run-offs from prior years. L&H OP fell 16.5% y/y to EUR1.0bn (an 8% miss) on lower business volumes and realised capital gains. VNB fell 17.3% y/y to EUR550m. Meanwhile, NBM improved 0.6ppt y/y to 4.0% on a better business mix. AM OP dropped 10.2% y/y to EUR792m (a 7% beat), reflecting a 3.8ppt y/y deterioration in the cost-income ratio to 61.5% on lower performance fees. Third-party AUM fell 2.5% q/q to EUR1.7trn, due to an adverse market impact of EUR97.0bn and net outflows of EUR19.9bn (annualised ca 4%), partly offset by favourable currency/other effects to the tune of EUR73.5bn. The solvency II ratio stood at 199% (vs 200% at end-Q2). The group announced a new share buyback programme of up to EUR1bn, to be completed by end-2023. Management edged its 2022 guidance for OPs up to the upper half of the target range (EUR13.4bn, +/-EUR1bn).
